THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

IN 1917

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. The great war in Europe is now half way into its third year, and, whether peace be at hand or yet be far off, it and the events to follow it are sure to be of absorbing interest for many a month to come.

These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN (Tri-weekly,) together for one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00

Origin of Moon in Doubt.

Many theories of the origin of the moon have been advanced, but all seem to present some difficulties. Our satellite furnishes us many unsolved problems. A belief in the meteoric origin of the moon is now quite general. According to this belief the earth was surrounded in the early stages of its existence by a ring of meteoric matter. The material forming the ring gradually gathered into one mass, our present moon, whose pitted face gives evidence of the bombardment it received from meteoric masses within the ring. According to this theory our satellite has always been a dead world, a cold and lifeless mass of meteoric rock. It has never felt the pulse of life or undergone the mighty changes that have passed over its ruling planet. It has remained a cold and silent witness to vast evolutionary processes going on upon a neighboring world such as it could never experience for itself.

COMMAND "WENT" FOR BOTH

Indiana Woman's Sharp Order Scared Junkman as Well as Dog That Was Digging Up Garden.

There is a woman in Irvington who is certainly in bad with a junk man, all on account of a dog. It was not her dog, nor yet the junk man's, which makes the case sadder than ever. The dog belongs to a neighbor, and must be the reincarnation of Captain Kidd or some other pirate, for his whole existence seems to be spent in seeking for buried treasure. As pirate treasure was always buried in the most unlikely places, that is where he digs. Nobody but a pirate or a dog would look for treasure very far below the surface of an onion bed, for instance, but the digging that dog did made the Irvington woman's onion bed look like a model of the Hindenburg line just after it was broken. The dog was "sedulously engaged in his terrestrial explorations," as they would say it in Irvington, when the woman saw him from the window. Rushing to the door, she shrieked, "Get out of here!" at the top of what is naturally a soft and cooing voice. Instead of one scramble there were two, and a junk man, until then unnoticed, passed through the open back gate just half a jump ahead of the dog, both going strong. It was more than a minute before the voice of the junk man was heard in the siren song, "Ra-a-agsol-l-?-diron," and even at the distance it betrayed a decided tremolo. — Indianapolis News.

TOO STRENUOUS.

"Yes, I'm goin' to change into some family what ain't got seven small boys."

MORE ON HAND.

Her Admirer—Your sister has such beautiful hair.
H. Small Brother—You haven't seen a quarter of it yet.

STUNG.

Stella—Was Jack wounded at the front, then?
Maud—No; he came home on leave, and sat on a wasp's nest.

WILLING TO RISK IT.

Surgeon—Do you carry accident insurance?
Victim—No, but go ahead and operate; I'll take a chance.

CYNICAL.

"What a good, sensible girl Miss Nellie is."
"Yes; that is the reason the men keep away from her."

POOR HAND.

Cholly—Your daughter is my queen and I her king.
Hed Dad—Take her. A pair of jacks is more serviceable.

THE REASON.

"I saw a man just now fairly choking with anger."
"Perhaps he had to swallow his words."

ECONOMIZING.

"Are you doing anything to save the food supply?"
"Well, we've given up keeping goldfish."

ANSWERED UNDER PRESSURE.

Alice—What did you say when he asked you if you loved him?
Edith—I refused to answer at first, but he squeezed it out of me.

CLEVER DOG.

"My dog can scent a storm hours off."
"Then his nose must be something of a storm seater."

HOME PARADISE TO ADAM

By Home Buying the Consumer Helps
Not Only His Town, but Helps Himself—Every Man With a Heart Loves Home and Town—Some Should Be Conscience Stricken.

[Copyrighted, 1914, by Thomas J. Sullivan.]
Only the home can found a state. It is the seminary of all other institutions. There is magic in that little word home. It is a mystic circle that surrounds comforts and virtues never known beyond its hallowed limits.

We need not power or splendor,
Wide halls or lordly dome.
The good, the true, the tender—
These form the wealth of home.

Destroying Your Paradise.
The retail mail order houses are trying to destroy your home and your paradise by inducing you to buy your necessaries from them instead of your local merchants, to the injury of your home industries, home market and home town.

There is so much difference in buying goods of a home place of business and ordering them by mail from a catalogue house from a mere picture or description that I want to point out a few facts that many may never have thought of.

May Examine and Select.
At the home store you make your wants known; the salesman shows you
the desired article, helps select or suggest the article best suited to your needs.

Thus you have an opportunity to examine the quality, to see the style, to select the size and color, as the case may be; you can compare the different grades, and then if everything is satisfactory and in your judgment the price is right you will make the purchase.

Will Exchange or Refund.
When you get home and upon a rigid examination you find a flaw or mar on your purchase, or the article may be too large or too small, or a black instead of a blue, then the next day or the week after you go to your dealer
and explain, and he will gladly exchange the item or refund the money.

And another matter worthy of serious thought is this: Supposing the mail order houses could sell goods cheaper and everybody would order his goods from them.

The local stores would soon exist only in memory. You would then be at the mercy of the mail order houses entirely and be obliged to send away
for everything.

Buy Big Things at Home.
Remember a store cannot be kept up with small purchases if the local money is sent away for the big things.

This method will result only in ruining your home trade and in helping to build up an enormous corporation in some faraway city.

The failure to patronize home merchants decreases the value of farms,
and town property becomes less valuable, as you well know that if a town goes back both local and surrounding values decrease.

Send your money away; you get nothing but the goods. Spend your money at home; it will come back to you in better towns, better stores and better social advantages.

Help Build Up Your Own Town.
Is it not more to your interest to help build up your own little city or town than to contribute to the upbuilding of some faraway large city?

Is it not a fact that if your own town had 10,000 population instead of 1,000 it would be much better for all residents?

Would there not be much more employment?

Would not the consumption of products be greatly increased and consequently a farm within a radius of ten miles be worth from $10 to $50 an acre more?

This being the case, is it only a good thing for the merchant or tradesman
if you buy from him?

Or is it equally as good a thing for you?

True Citizenship.
To Adam paradise was home. To the enterprising among his descendants home is paradise.

True citizenship is not all in rallying round the flag of our country and singing "Hail, Columbia."

The true spirit of patriotism is shown by the man who patronizes home industry first, last and all the time.
